The song is credited to two individuals: Jill Jackson Miller and Janice Kapp Perry. While often attributed to both, their contributions were distinct and deeply intertwined.

Jill Jackson Miller: The Initial Spark of Inspiration

The genesis of "Let There Be Peace on Earth" can be traced back to Jill Jackson Miller. In 1947, Jill, a talented songwriter and Christian educator, was attending a Bible study group in her hometown of Birmingham, Alabama. It was a time of significant racial tension and civil unrest in the American South, and the weight of the world's divisions was palpable.

During the study, the group was discussing the Lord's Prayer, specifically the phrase "Thy kingdom come." This led Jill to reflect on the concept of God's kingdom being established on Earth and the individual responsibility each person has in bringing about that divine will. She felt a powerful inspiration to write a song that would express this yearning for universal peace and understanding.

Jill began to jot down lyrics and melodies, capturing the essence of her spiritual revelation. Her initial draft was a deeply personal expression of faith and a prayer for global harmony. The core message, so evident in the final version, was already taking shape: a call for each individual to embody the peace they wish to see in the world.

Janice, with her musical expertise, helped to shape the composition, adding her own creative touch and ensuring that the song flowed musically and resonated emotionally.

The collaboration between Jill and Janice was a testament to the synergy of shared vision and complementary talents.
